TIMBERLINE NIGHT COLLECTION

The contrast between the smooth inside surface and the rough outside texture defines the look and feel of the Timberline Night Collection. Just like the natural timberline boundary in the mountains where the altitude prevents any tree growth creates a definite limit of the thick trees compared to the rocky, bare mountain above.

The sandy grey texture on the outside of the items in this range is like stone and pleasant to the touch. The inside is a deep, satin black finish which mimics the night and lets the vibrant colors of food appeal to the eyes. Popular with many types of menus this collection is interesting in its look in addition to its experience for the hands.
