WABI MUG

Designed by: Jesika K. Tutanumala

Wabi Mug is a combine concept of the traditional tea drinking of Japanese philosophy known as Wabi-Sabi. It means, wisdom in imperfections. Wabi Mug have 3 important components, a mug, a tea filter and a lid. The usage are fairly simple yet have multipurposes. By brewing the tea leaves on the filter, the lid can be a cover to keep the tea warm, and when you flip the filter and the lid together it can be a container for tea leaves leftovers. The Wabi-Sabi concept is represented by using Buff Body ; a different type of clay which has textures on it and it comes in brown colour – and the usage of glaze that always have different effects to the colour as what Wabi-Sabi believes in simplicity, naturalism, imperfections, profundity and unadorned materials.
